Summer officially kicked off in a fantastic way this past weekend during the Lake Erie Districts at the Chautauqua Institute. The Chautauqua Institute was extremely hospitable, welcoming, and the weather emphasized how pretty Chautauqua is. There was a great attendance of sailors, all varying in age, but talented and competitive nonetheless. Teams from four non(Lake Erie Districts came to the regatta. Of the twenty(seven boats who raced, the majority of people were under forty years old. The top five boats overall, consisting of fifteen people, had two people over forty, three to four people in their thirties, and the rest were under thirty. Three of the boats that attended had only juniors on their boat.

Throughout the weekend there were six races. The first day races were postponed because of a lack of wind, but that did not stop the sailors from having fun. People were playing frisbee, socializing, and tubing or swimming to avoid the heat. After postponement, they got in four races with relatively light wind. Later, the Chautauqua Institute had a delicious dinner with hamburgers, sausages, potato salad, and most importantly, cookies. The wind picked up the second day and was finished with two races. One race got cancelled because the downwind leg ended up turning into the upwind leg because the wind was so shifty. After the races, boats were packed up and the regatta concluded with a nice awards ceremony. Looking forward to many more regattas over the summer meeting new friends and reacquainting with old friends.
