60th Hoosier Regatta,
By Todd Wake

As Bill Faude has previously stated the Hoosier Regatta is "the finest regatta you will ever have the privilege of attending". At the 59th we donned drysuits with high winds and temps in the low 40's and this did nothing to dampen out spirits. Last year the water was too low and no regatta could be held, what a bummer, we should have all come without boats and still held a party. This year we had moderate winds and the temperature was near 80 degrees. Absolutely perfect! 23 teams were treated to the famous hospitality of Wawasee Yacht Club, breakfast, brunch, lunch, dinner, beer and The Program hosted by Jeff Schmahl.

Kristine, Doug (9inches and 40 pounds heavier than 2011) and I sailed well enough to defend our title. Ernie and Jacqueline Dieball sailing with Amy Gunkle may very well have won the regatta if it wasn't for a spinnaker malfunction in race 3. None of these results are really very important. This regatta is about the Lightning Tribe young and old getting together race, hang out and celebrate (mourn) the end of the Midwest sailing season. I think the happiest face I saw all weekend was from Dean Dieball when he won a John Deere tractor model during the program.

First time attendees John and Bertie Werley sailing with Dave Corcoran opened the regatta with a horizon job first place. As hosts of the season opening Pymatuning Regatta they know a thing or two about having a good time and putting on a good event. I guess John and Bertie felt right at home on a small Lake with a bunch of fun people.

Special note must be given to the team of Tanner Probst, Jenna Probst and Maya Weber. Ages 15, 13 and 15. They sailed very well and put on a clinic while winning the last race. I spent the whole race trying to pass them but they kept their composure. Their boat handling was crisp and on a day with unsteady wind they always put themselves in the right position to defend their lead. Tanner and Jenna's Mom and Dad and Grandpa must have been very proud as they watched the race unfold (from way behind). I think we will be seeing more from these kids in the years to come. Ken Hoakins, Debbie's dad, drove all the way up from Florida to sail in the regatta. He is 80 years old and is sailing a Laser Regatta in South Carolina next week. How cool is that? Now we know where Debbie gets it from.

You must put this regatta on your schedule for next year!
